

Highlights

- A restrained inclusion produces an axial shear change of 15.45 MPa.
- Spatial averaging changes both the magnitude and sign of the shear response.
- Upper-line departure differs by one saved frame in the paired loading runs.
- The creep estimate remains conditional on stress amplitude and activation volume.